

The ArT class

Artist Teacher Janine Claudia Nizza

Dear All,

We are happy to announce that FAO Casa Gazette has published The ArT class article in the online issue of January 2022. The contents of the article describe the artistic work done by students during the 2021. We have also shared our new website that shows more images and description of this course in collaboration with FAO Staff Coop. We invite you to read it and join a free trial class especially in this beginning of the new year to unleash the creativity within you!

Because of FAO's privacy protection, links in this newsletter or in the article do not function, so just copy and paste the address www.theartclassonline.com into your browser to find out more!

Description

Janine will support student' s work with thematic theory classes on Art History of painting, from the Prehistoric Age to the Street Art, including with explanation of other techniques to realize art work, helping and supporting each student all along with their creations, in order to achieve the best individual result!

Janine creates a method of learning Art Work based on simple esthetic and technical concepts; learn how to approach portray, landscape in a realistic or abstract ways, through:

- Various approaches to the Vision: observation and elaboration of the subject from several levels of perception
- Study of the right media to represent the subject: oil painting/acrylic painting/pencils and markers/photography/decoupage/mixed media
- Realization of the entire artwork, including the support to “frame“ it or “present“ it.

The Art Class is open to all students from young to senior, who should be provided with their own colours/canvas/materials and books.
